NCOSS Pre-Budget Consultation for Aboriginal Organisations and Communities

The Council of Social Service of NSW (NCOSS) is the peak body for the social and community services sector in NSW. NCOSS works with its members on behalf of disadvantaged people and communities towards achieving social justice in NSW.

NCOSS presents a major Pre-Budget Submission to the NSW Government each year, which recommends spending priorities in human services. Each year, in developing this Pre-Budget Submission, NCOSS consults with community organizations in three or four different rural and regional locations across NSW to identify critical social policy and human services issues. This year we will be visiting Muswellbrook.

We would like to hear from Aboriginal organisations and communities in your area to assist us with developing the NCOSS Pre-Budget Submission.

Come along, have a cup of tea and some lunch, and help identify priority issues for your community.
