

All Aboard NSW!

NCOSS is currently working with disability advocates and other groups with an interest in accessible transport to establish the All Aboard Accessible Transport Campaign in NSW. Since its launch in April this year a Victorian campaign has heightened public awareness of the problems people with disability experience accessing transport in that state, creating opportunities for people to share their experiences, boosting media coverage of accessibility issues and has put pressure on government agencies to take action.

To get involved in the campaign, please contact:
