

NCOSS Workforce Development Project 2012

Equal Pay Case Consultation

Fair Work Australia has found that community sector workers are underpaid on the basis of gender and is expected to make orders soon to increase pay rates for the sector.

NCOSS will be consulting with small, generalist community services in regional NSW in February 2012.

At these consultations we want to hear about your organisation's information and support requirements in relation to implementing the Equal Pay Decision.

Are you on a Management Committee or a manager of a family support service, neighbourhood centre, youth service or some other small community service NGO?

Do you receive all or most of your funding from Community Services?

Then please register soon and have your say

These consultations will provide essential background information on the Equal Pay Case, cover some of the likely implications and find out what your organisation needs from the NSW Government to assist with the implementation issues.

Please register by Friday 27 January 2012

Consultations will be held in the following locations
