

NCOSS Workforce Development Project: Equal Pay Case: Regional Consultations

Fair Work Australia has found that community sector workers are underpaid on the basis of gender and is expected to make orders soon to increase pay rates for the sector.

NCOSS will be consulting with small, generalist community services in regional NSW in February 2012.

These consultations will provide essential background information on the Equal Pay Case, cover some of the likely implications and find out what your organisation needs from the NSW Government to assist with the implementation issues.

Managers and Management Committee members of small community service NGOs are invited to register their attendance at the consultations in Dubbo, Tamworth, Port Macquarie, Wagga Wagga, Ballina, Queanbeyan or Narooma.
